

FINDING AND FUNDING INTERNSHIPS

PRESENTER(S):

- MARY BETH WOODWARD, ASSISTANT DIRECTOR, CENTER FOR CAREER DEVELOPMENT

DESCRIPTION:

Internships are a High-Impact Practice (HIP) that can help students clarify major and career goals, gain necessary skills for the workforce, connect academic coursework to real-world issues, and make professional connections for future success. However, it can be difficult to help students identify internship opportunities and ways to fit them into their budgets, calendars, and existing obligations. In this session, you will learn about both UT-specific and external internship programs and funding sources and leave with a plethora of resources to share with students.

LEARNING OUTCOMES:

- Participants will learn how to find and refer students to internship resources provided by UT and external sources.
- Participants will learn how to help students create their own internship opportunities when programs matching their interests are not feasible or available.

NACADA CORE COMPETENCY(IES):

- INFORMATIONAL

ADVISING 2020 MODEL COMPONENT(S):

- CAREER EXPLORATION
- EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING